Cyber-Sex for Nuts

Times have not changed, however the new technology makes it easier to get sexual images privately without standing in line at a "Arts Theater" with Pee Wee Herman, or picking through a seedy section at a newsstand, or how about hustling to an empty checkout counter with XXX porno videos locked in sweaty palms.

Now you can travel through Sodom Gomorra by surfing the internet in complete privacy making it easier for those who want to control you to get access to your mind. Millions of children daily travel through puberty ingesting images designed to stimulate them away from morality and into the greedy clutches of capitalistic exploiters of their sex urges. Many adults become porn junkies trapped in unhappy fantasies that devalue everything including interpersonal relationships, replacing them with demented anti-sexual slime.

It is been estimated that 6.5 percent of male internet users are compulsive cyber-sex fans with wild online fantasies so intense they effect their real world interactions. Naturally this causes problems and their quality of life suffer. San Jose Dr. Al Cooper of the Marital and Sexuality Centre conducted a survey and talked about “cyber sex addiction:”

We know a lot of people are using the Internet for sexual activity. We need to figure out how people get in trouble with it.

Many of this sampling of cyber-sex junkies report spending 5.7 hours a week in this man made fantasy. Lost in a maze of legitimized filth, here fantasy life invades their real world and in this clash political manipulation is as easy as making a nymph hot.

Ducking ‘n dodging through mindless chat rooms, watching live sex feeds and scampering around barnyards, playgrounds, alleyways, bedrooms, kitchen floors, toilets, gardens, swimming pools and corporate offices, the cyber-sex junky voluntarily lets into his or her consciousness images and appetites that opens the door to insanity. Many cite their activities as stress breakers as well as entertainment:

People do it again and again and again, instead of running or talking to their partner. There are alternate ways of relieving stress that are probably healthier... These people go online to do things, whether it's with animals or threesomes or homosexual or whatever -- that they wouldn't do in their offline life. This tends to reinforce a split between their online and off-line life.

No longer do they have to risk detection as they scope porno images that trigger escapism’s trap of sexual under-development. These images were created for profit and to lock down political immaturity as the victim steals away to a world that he or she may never have had access to, which many times delivers a carrot on the stick interaction that could lead to dangerous off-line, real life decadence.

Confusion is the enemy of revolution. This country and its Federal Communications Commission (FCC) went from the rigid reactionary control of the broadcast industry, because that was what was needed in the so-called Cold War era. Now its de-regulation that allows show and tell sex on the airways. Why? Different times and goals require different strategies and tactics for control.

Viewers including children slide through images of humans and farm animals, men jamming each other, women on women show and tell performances, naked children, adults abusing under aged young people, whore action, gang banging for fun, rape scenes, transsexual (chicks with dicks) action, trampy senior citizens, midgets 'n amputees in live action, and of course, inter-racial collaborations of all sorts. On the Black-white tip Laila Afrika had this to say in his classic book Nutricide:

The Black man that has sex with a Black woman is practicing M'aat and spiritually uniting himself with God. Sex is a political, social and spiritual language of culture. It is not simply a physical reproductive or regenerative activity. Afrikan Sexuality is a holistic (spirit, mind, body) cultural language that Afrikans use to serve M'aat.

If that is the case and it is, that's why our enemies will do anything to disrupt that holistic harmony for the purposes of subjugation, disruption and annihilation. This explains why they are so concerned and so aggressive in projecting disharmony, distrust and out 'n out warfare against Black Male/Female relationships. Brother Afrika takes it further, much further, check this:

A Black person having sex with a white person is emotionally masturbating a dysfunctional ingredient in the mind. A dysfunctional Afrikan is one that is not free to practice Afrikan culture at all times and in all situations. You, your family, your culture and the continent of Afrika has to be free of white domination and able to defend itself and attack its enemies in order to be holistically healthy, functional and free. Therefore, any sex with a white woman merely represents another form of Afrikan dysfunctionality.

I can hear this book being slammed shut all over the world as many of us snap into denial mode and white mates hustle to put back on their white sheets after I had yanked 'em off and left them naked before the world. Yo, Afrika isn't finished as his social microscope magnifies the deception:

The crazy sick part of the Black man and white woman sexual intercourse is that the white woman enjoys the dysfunctional social situation. She enjoys and gets a sexual thrill from the Black man's sexual hatred, denial of Black female love and subliminal hatred of his own manhood and race. She gets animalistic exotic erotic sexual arousal from his symbolic sacrifice of himself on her symbolic vagina cross. He symbolically imprisons himself in the cave jail of her white vagina where he is safe from his Blackness lost in her whiteness.

Look out! Ya gotta let ya self think this through and let your brain manage this information as Afrika goes on:

In many ways this same dysfunction occurs with the Black woman that has sex with the white man. Added to the Black Woman's dysfunction is the Mother Principle. the Black Woman destroys her Mother Principle, which means she is also destroying Mother Afrika. In any case, this white/Black sex is a way of committing spiritual suicide and Afrikan culture castration.

Cyber-Warfare against Afrikan culture and the annihilation of Afrikan images go deeper than personal choices of individuals, but is at the heart of their genocidal efforts against us. This is why at times they almost give computers away.

As we see their designs executed in bio-chemical warfare, academic terrorism and culture banditry, we tend to miss their attempts to capture our most personal possession, our sexuality as they make us Sex Prisoners. Anything goes, nothing is holy, animals, midgets, elders, children, its all about beauty and the beast.

We are sold on the notion that white is beautiful and we are mere beasts from the jungle and many spend their lives fleeing their best assets, their Blackness, their culture.

It takes a huge effort to make people deny what they see in the mirror and hate themselves because of someone else's standards, but our enemies get the job done, because every one of their institutions reinforces our sanity and most of us are as mad as a hatter by the time we graduate from Sesame Street. Ya feel me?... We become their... Sex Prisoners!
