Bloody Tears in Angola

One of white supremacy's most potent tricks is sponsoring civil war. Whether in Vietnam, Mozambique or Angola this trick is used to halt stabilization of freedom after liberation. It is a tactic to keep confusion mystifying self determination.

They play on religious, tribal and economic differences as they slither in to regain control for the purposes of exploitation, subjugation and re-enslavement. They attack all traditional institutions, awaken old contradictions and manufacture death.

To not be able to stabilize your country means the people suffer. No schools are built or improved upon. The economy is bankrupt because of the drain the war wages on total resources. Many times tribal hatred is kindled and every institution is wrecked as peace escapes within the internal conflict.

Since winning its liberation from the barbaric Portuguese through heroic armed struggle in November, 1975, peace has still eluded the country as the Central Intelligence Agency's Operatives have kept the blood running. Working through FNLA and UNITA organization Amerikkka and other European interest have been financing, organizing and fighting with these traitors to tie up Angola until they can seize it.

MPLA which waged the brunt of the liberation war against the Portuguese, Afrikan traitors and CIA operatives are still battling these forces today. The suffering people have watched this civil conflict go on for 24 years and may have to travel into the 21st century still fighting for freedom... We as Afrikan people must endure.

The leadership of UNITA & FNLA are corrupt operatives for Washington and will do anything to keep the country in turmoil. All attempts at a coalition government has failed because of ideological differences. Jonas Savimbi leader of the opposition (UNITA) has been a proven C.I.A. flunky. He gets his salary and arms from the United Snakes. This is an important struggle and not to research it and capture an understanding will keep you outta focus.

One of my criticisms of the "Black Book" I have that limited information is being produced to clarify the current struggles in the Motherland. It is directly connected to our problems nationally and locally. We hope to attempt to give clarity from this website. Our lack of global knowledge and ideological clarity is going to haunt us in the coming years during our coming struggles.
